MY VELIGANDU STORY
Mohamed Hussain

It was a sunny Friday in the year 1984 when I arrived in the island of Veligandu. There was no jetty yet and I can still remember that we unloaded our stuff by hands as there were no trolleys yet. Life was so simple. The rooms weren’t constructed yet so we slept in tents. There was no fresh water available for shower, so we used salt water instead and just apply lotion afterwards. And then eventually, we transported water from Rasdhoo, placed it in tanks and distributed it to the rooms.

I started my job as a Mason. I didn’t have any idea about masonry at first, however, through hard work, I was able to master my job. In the first operational year of the resort, there were 17 rooms constructed in the east side of the island, the restaurant was located near reception which is now a staff accommodation; situated behind it was the bar which is now the games center. The guest arrival & departure was scheduled every Monday via dhoni or speed boat and most of the guests that time were Italians.

In my 35 years in Veligandu, I have witnessed a lot of great changes in the island. As the resort have been innovating and improving from time to time, I have grown and developed also to the person that I am today. From being a mason, I moved to housekeeping as a room boy, followed by being in charge of the store for about 20 years, then transferred to POMEC as maintenance supervisor and now the assistant maintenance manger.
Mahinda Wijayratna R.G.D

In 1988, I left Sri Lanka and worked in this beautiful country, the Maldives. In my first year, I worked in another CCR property and was then transferred to Veligandu in 1989. Looking back on the past, a lot of changes had happened in Veligandu. When I first arrived in this resort, there were only 55 guest rooms. We only had two big blocks for staff accommodation. These halls were pretty simple: no air conditioners and there were around 30 bunk beds inside. We ate our meals at the old cafeteria which was located near the carpentry. Food variety was less and we only enjoyed chicken dishes every Friday. Since there was no staff shop yet that time, we used to buy items like cigarette, Coca cola and toiletries directly from the store and pay not through salary deduction but in cash. We also enjoyed motivation trips like fishing and shopping in Thoddoo.

Things are very different now than it used to be. Guest restaurant was located near IT office. The power house was previously located in the area where we see the mosque. Football ground was near the incinerator. There was no staff gym or even ekuveni; only one table tennis board was available for us at the staff area. And when it comes to transfers, guests and team members travelled in and out of the island through boats instead of seaplane.

For 30 years, I have been working in Veligandu. I love what I do and I am grateful to be part of this team.
